INITIATIVE MAY BE USED ON THE MEAT ORDINANCE

Understood Farmers are Determined to Have Relief From Restriction—City Contends it is Impossible to Make Perfect Inspection Unless Inspector Sees Animal Killed.

While no action regarding the petition by the farmers for an amendment to the meat inspection ordinance was taken by the Board of Commissioners yesterday afternoon the petition was virtually tabled. The commissioners stated that the committee had previously appeared before the board and made the request that the ordinance be amended and as the board had thought it inadvisable to do so the matter was dropped and they saw no reason for taking it up again.

It is understood that the farmers are determined to have relief from what they term the imposition placed upon them. For months High Point has had such an ordinance and unless the one here is amended they will be compelled to bring their hogs and cattle to the slaughter house alive if they are to dispose of them on the market. It is said that in case the commissioners decline to take action the citizens of the city will be asked to bring out the initiative and by public vote amend the ordinance as suggested. The city people, the farmers state, are feeling the effects from the ordinance more than are the country people, in that the price of meats has advanced materially during the months the ordinance has been in force.

When the ordinance was originally passed by the Board of Aldermen last year section two read as follows:

"Section 2.—That no fresh meat offered for sale within the city shall be approved or passed by the said inspector or deputy inspector without his having first examined and inspected the animal of which said meat is a part before the same was slaughtered, and the carcass, heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, and viscera of said animal at the time of its slaughter; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to prevent said inspector from approving and passing fresh meats if sound and wholesome where found in the possession of any farmer who raised the animal of which said meat is a part, (provided such farmer is not engaged in the meat or butcher business in the said city of Greensboro), if such farmer shall have attached to said meat the following internal organs of said animal, viz; the heart, liver, tongue, kidney and lungs; and, provided further, that this section shall not apply to packing house products which have been inspected and approved in accordance with the regulations of the bureau of animal industry of the United States Department of Agriculture; and, provided further, that said inspector or deputy inspector shall not be required to attend any place other than the slaughter houses, as hereinafter provided for, for the purpose of holding said ante mortem and post mortem examination of animals, as hereinbefore provided."

When the commissioners took charge they amended the ordinance by cutting out the following: "Provided that nothing herein shall be construed to prevent said inspector from approving and passing fresh meats if sound and wholesome where found in the possession of any farmer who raised the animal of which said meat is a part, (provided such farm-

Robinson, two of the most noted aviators in this country, Beachey having recently driven his machine under the Niagara bridge and Robinson having driven his machine successfully under the great Illinois Central bridge at Caro, Ill. It is an iron clad contract for exhibits each afternoon unless the wind is more than 35 miles an hour.

WATER SITUATION IN RALEIGH SERIOUS

Special Appeal to People to Economize Made by Mayor Johnson.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 3.—The people of Raleigh are facing for a second time this summer a decided water famine, the situation being so serious as to elicit a special appeal to the people from Mayor Johnson for every possible water economy to be practiced. The city is using around 1,250,000 gallons per day and the flow from the water shed has dwindled to less than 800,000 gallons and is steadily declining. The heavy rain that flooded the streets of the city Monday passed completely around the water shed that feeds the city water supply. The weather bureau gives no promise of rain for some days to come and the situation is daily growing more serious.

CALLS ATTENTION TO 'HOUSE FLY'

Insect Should Be Termed the 'Typhoid Fly,' a Scientist Declares.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The insect we now call the "house fly" should be termed "the typhoid fly," in order to call direct attention to the danger of allowing it to continue to breed unchecked, says L. O. Howard, chief of the department of agriculture's bureau of entomology.

Professor Howard says a careful screening of windows and doors during the summer, supplemented with fly-catching devices, is the surest preventive of disease through these germ-bearing insects. The sanitary keeping of stables would do much toward eradicating the fly, he says.

A "swat the fly" crusade, now on in Washington, is to be backed up by a "swat-the-man" movement, in which the health authorities will vigorously enforce the law concerning the care of stables.

SENATE

Passed the House Reapportionment Bill This Afternoon.

Washington City, Aug. 3.—The Senate this afternoon passed the Congressional reaportionment bill, without division, agreeing to the House measure.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The Senate today took up the House reapportionment bill, under the unanimous consent agreement to vote on it today. The amendment by Senator Burton that all additional represenatives under the new reapportionment shall be elected at large in each state was adopted. Senator Root's amendment keeping the House membership to its present number was defeated.

The bill will be voted upon late this afternoon. If it is passed North Carolina will have ten congressmen, the same number she now has.

In the House today the debate on the cotton bill was resumed. It is believed that the bill will pass this afternoon without amendments.

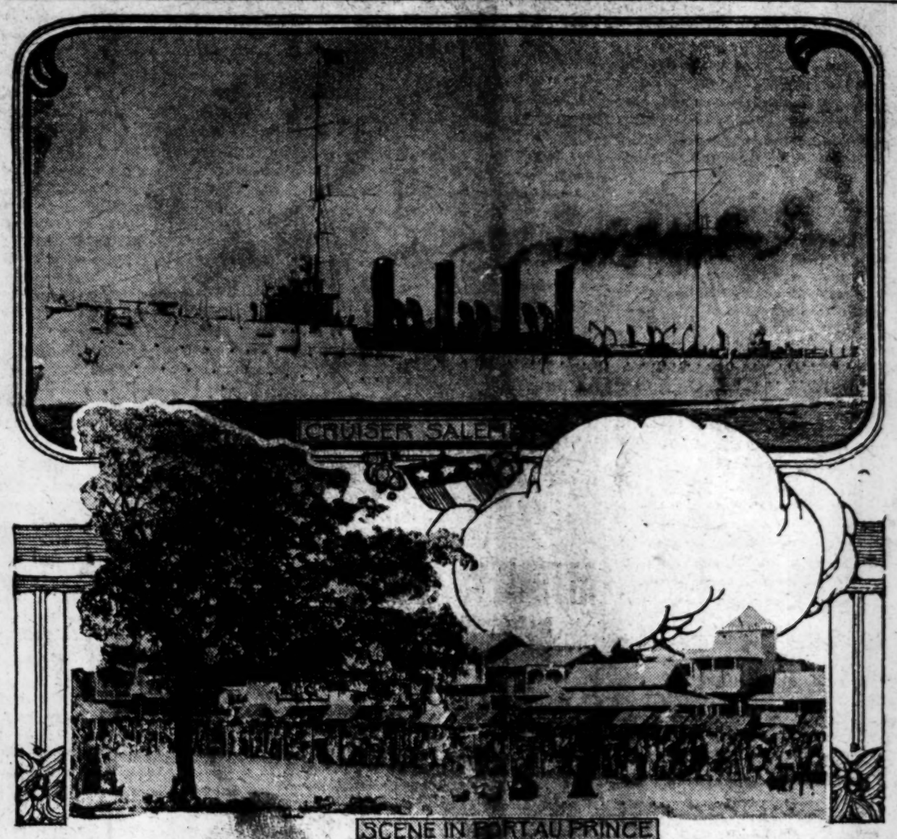
Five American Vessels in Haitian Waters Because of the Revolutionary Crisis There.



The navy department has ordered the scout cruiser Salem, sister of the Chester and one of the swiftest boats in the navy, to Port au Prince to re-enforce the American warships patrolling the coast of the Haitian republic. The crisis in the revolution is at hand, and the fall of President Simon's government is considered inevitable. The principal anxiety at Washington is that chaos will follow the expected triumph of the revolutionists. With President Simon eliminated the indications are that the trouble will be resolved into a bloody struggle between the forces of General Leconte and Firmin, rival candidates for the presidency. With five American vessels in Haitian waters, however, it is believed foreign interests will be secure.

FRANCE BEGINS FIGHT AGAINST DREAD CHOLERA

Paris, Aug. 3.—Rigid quarantine regulations against cholera were established today by the government along the Italian border. Advices from Italy state that there have been 450 deaths from cholera in that country within the past month.

ANOTHER STUMP IN WAY OF TAFT'S VETO.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The tariff board is much put out at a recent statement from Odgen, Utah, attributed to W. C. Barnes, one of the board's special investigators, that sheep could be raised in the United States at a profit of $1.83 a head. This publication makes it more difficult for Taft to veto any wool bill.

After an investigation, the board announced that Mr. Barnes denies making such a declaration, and that, whether Mr. Barnes made the statement or not, it is inaccurate and unauthorized.

"No statements regarding cost or profits of sheep raising or wool growing have been made with the authority of the tariff board," says the official statement by Chairman Emery today. "Furthermore, it is impossible for any one to make accurate statements based upon the investigation of the board until the complete figures have been received and tabulated."

Mr. Barnes is an employe of the forest service, an expert on sheep grazing. He has been checking up parts of the board's wool investigation.

PORT AN PRINCE IN HANDS OF THE REVOLUTIONISTS

Attempt Made to Sink Ship on Which Simon Took Refuge.

Port Au Prince, Aug. 3.—With long range guns the revolutionists made several attempts last night to sink the gunboat on which President Simon was a refugee, but they did not succeed in hitting the vessel. General Firman, commander of the revolutionists, took possession of the city today. He announced that the city government would be administered by a commissioner of safety.

This is the most important meeting of the Friends in the State and is always largely attended. Business sessions will be held each morning and the afternoon sessions and night sessions will be devoted to addresses on various topics of interest. Among the noted Friends who will be here from a distance will be Prof. Kelsey, of Haverford, Pa., who will make an address.

EMBEZZLER SUICIDES WHEN ARRESTED

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 3.—Carey E. Mankey, wanted for the embezzlement of funds aggregating $45,000 from a bank at Pearls, Ill., was arrested here today. When placed under arrest Manker committed suicide by slashing his throat with a knife.

Greensboro People In Snake Hunt.

Montreat, N. C., AUG. 1.—Aside from the religious surroundings at this place there is always something doing in the amusement line, and one never knows what it is to be lonely. On yesterday Rev. S. M. Rankin headed a party of fine young men, composed of Forest and Paul Wysong, J. R. Mendenhall and the writer on a big snake hunt. Everything was moving along very nicely until away up the mountain side a den was found. Of course, all were more or less excited, but headed by the man that we were, we did not even think of danger. We found it necessary to keep some one on guard, and much to the delight of the writer this was forced upon him. Into the battle the others of the party went and when the smoke had all cleared away, we found we had bagged two pilots and one rattler about three and a half feet long, with eleven rattles. The party was now ready to return feeling that we were the conquerors of the rattler tribe. All of the honors must be given to the big man at the head of the party, for it was before his strong arms that the powerful rattler was forced to give up life. The party returned to the hotel determined on the next day to give the yellow jackets of which there are an abundance, a trial.

Shooting Was Accidental.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 3.—Later news from Mexico City concerning the shooting of Eugene Lee, of Dunn, who graduated from A. & M. College here last spring and was engaged as an engineer on the National railroad, Mexico, is to the effect that he shot himself accidentally while examining an automatic revolver. The ball penertated his abdomen and lodged in his spine. His lower extremities are paralized from the effects. There is little hope for his recovery. He is a son of E. Lee, of Dunn.

FINAL ADOPTION OF TEXT BOOKS

After two Months of Work Sub Commission Makes Report.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 3.—The State Text-Book Commission in session this afternoon preparatory to the formal adoption of text-books will later in the afternoon receive the report of the sub-commission on the examinations the sub-commissioners made of books offered. It is understood there are two reports, two of the sub-commissioners disagreeing with the other four as to recommendations. The disagreement of the sub-commissioners materially complicated the adoption by throwing the responsibility more wholly on the State officers constituting the commission proper.

Raleigh, Aug. 3.—The final adoption of text books to be used in the public schools of the state for the next five years is now on with the State text book commission and the sub-commission of six educators, who, under the law as amended by the last legislature, have co-ordinate authority and vote with the regular commisisoners in the votes on adoption. The preliminary work leading up to adoption, including the hearing of the representatives of the book concerns and the examination of the books offered, as to their merits or defects, by the sub-commissioners has been on for the past two months and the sub-commission today presented its report on the books they have examined to the full commission. This report is not made public. The commission also today opened the bids by the publishers showing the prices at which the books are offered. The fact that Governor Kitchin was obliged to leave the city this afternoon to fill an engagement that will keep him out of the city until Sunday necessitated adjournment to Monday when the work of adoption will then be taken up. The city is full of bookmen representing the various publishers and it is said that some are striving to force a reopening of hearings on account of marked copies of newspapers containing articles on the pending adoption to various state officers, the charge being made that this was done by some of the bookmen in violation of an agreement that there were to be no communications whatever with the commissioners after the formal hearings were concluded three weeks ago. Just who mailed the marked newspapers does not yet appear and the contest over the matter is being watched with interest.

DOCK

Laborers Strike for Higher Wages in London --Others to Follow.

London, Eng., Aug. 3.—Because of the refusal of employing steamship companies to accede to their demands for higher wages a thousand dock workers and other laborers are on a strike here today. It is expected that more than fifty thousand will walk out tonight and the condition will then become serious. The effect will almost if not completely tie up the shipping interests here.

Mr. Aycock At Kenansville.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 3.—Ex-Gov. Chas. B. Aycock, one of North Carolina's four candidates for the United States Senate, an all-star quartet, composed of Senator Simmons, ex-Gov. Aycock, Gov. Kitchin and Chief Justice Clark, goes to Kenansville today to deliver an address for the Confederate veterans who hold their annual reunion there today. "The Old Soldiers" will be the theme of the ex-governor.

Accountant E. J. Forney is now working on the quarterly report of the condition of the city's finances showing what was received and expended by the commissioner to July 1. The report will likely be completed this week.

THE TREATIES WITH ENGLAND AND FRANCE SIGNED

Secretary Knox Affixed Signature at Three O'clock, While Ambassador Bryce Signed it on Behalf of England — Ambassador Jusserand, of France Signed His Name in Paris.

Paris, Aug. 3.—Ambassador Jusserand signed the arbirtration treaty between France and the United States this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The cabinet will now have to decide whether or not the pact will be submitted to the General Assembly, but its ratification is practically assured.

Washington, Aug. 3.—This afternoon at 3 o'clock in the presence of President Taft, who invited all nations to join hands with the United States in broadening the arbitration principle, Secretary of State Knox signed both the British and French treateis in the historic east room of the White House. On behalf of Great Britain Ambassador James Bryce, of Great Britain, signed the British treaty having come to Washington for this purpose from Seal Harbor, Me., the summer home of the British embassy.

It is the intention of the President and Secretary Knox to follow the action taken by negotiating conventions with as many of the great powers as are willing to enter into similar arrangements.

Already progress has been made in preparing for such treaties with Germany, the Netherlands and Sweden, and there is reasonable expectation that Japan will soon be a party to the negotiations.

Durham Mills To Close.

Durham, Aug. 3.—Beginning tomorrow, Friday, August 4, the two great plants of the Erwin Cotton Mills company, No. 1 mills at West Durham and No. 2 mills at Duke, on denims, will be closed down for two weeks.

It is learned also that the Pearl cotton mill and the Erwin mills No. 4 at West Durham, best known as the new Erwin mill, will also shut down upon the same time basis tomorrow. They manufacture wide sheetings, the market which they supply being in the same unfortunate condition that has stood in the way of manufacturing throughout these years. The acute depression near election time of last year has not in the least been helped and mill men interviewed all over North Carolina see no immediate prospect for betterment. Indeed, promise of a record crop must put down that hope if the weather conditions continue so good.

ELDER HARDY FOUND NOT GUILTY OF CONTEMPT.

Attorney A. L. Brooks was at Wentworth yesterday where before Judge C. C. Lyon the contempt case against Elder L. H. Hardy was argued, the court discharging the defendant. In deciding the case Judge Lyon said that the words used by Elder Hardy did not constitute a case of contempt. Recorder Humphreys cited the minister to appear before him for contempt and found him guilty. The defendant appealed and the court held that he was not entitled to an appeal. A writ of certiorari was procured to have Judge Lyon pass upon the case.

Admiral Togo will be in this country for only a few days. He will leave New York tomorrow for Washington to call upon President Taft and other prominent officials of the United States government. While in Washington he will be the honor guest at four dinners, one of which will be by the Nation's Chief Executive.

THE FARMERS AND THE CITY ORDINANCES.

Public attention is being focused in a considerable degree just now on the differences between the country people of the county and the city officials of Greensboro in regard to certain ordinances which have been adopted by the City Commissioners, governing the marketing of cattle and meats here and restricting the area in the city in which farmers may expose their products for sale. The Telegram of yesterday contained an account of the action of a committee of the Farmers' Union in presenting to the Commissioners a petition asking for a change in the ordinance governing the sale of cattle and meats in the city. Today The Telegram presents in its news columns another article which deals with this matter, in which is set forth some of the arguments advanced by the Commissioners to sustain their position and by the farmers who are contending for changes in the ordinance. These articles will doubtless be read with interest by the public. The Telegram in its news columns is endeavoring to present both sides of the controversy, in order that the public may be thoroughly informed in regard to the matters at issue.

The Telegram trusts that all the parties at interest will, in a spirit of fairness, endeavor to reach an adjustment which will be satisfactory to all. The interests of Greensboro and the rural districts of Guilford county are mutual. Whatever injures the city is likely to injure the county and whatever injures the country districts will be detrimental to the city. We are certain that no right-thinking citizen of this city desires to see any action taken which will injure the cattle raising industry of the country or any other interest of the farmers. All the encouragement possible should be given the farmers in their efforts to raise cattle and produce vegetables and poultry and dairy products. It is certainly to the advantage of the city people to be able to secure abundant supplies of foodstuffs produced right here in our own county, because prices are bound to be lower on home products than on those shipped from a great distance, and the quality is better. On the other hand, it pays the farmers of Guilford and adjoining counties to produce for the Greensboro market and sell at a saving to the consumers, in comparison with the prices charged for shipped products.

While it is true. The Telegram believes, that the people of Greensboro do not wish to discourage any agricultural interest of the county, the Commissioners must be commended for their efforts to safeguard the interests of the people of the city, and especially health conditions here. As we understand it, this is what the Commissioners are endeavoring to do in enforcing the present ordinances. They are trying to prevent the sale of diseased meats in the city.

The Telegram believes that a satisfactory adjustment of this matter can be arranged between the farmers and the Commissioners, and we join the people of both city and country in advising all the interested parties to endeavor to secure an equitable adjustment.

Henry Clay Beattie is a smoker of cigarettes, which is one of the worst things so far alleged against the things.

Down in Charlotte they have deserted the water wagon and everybody wants to get next to the water train.

The White House stables are to be rebuilt and improved. Doubtless preparing for the stabling of the donkey on March 4, 1913.

Admiral Togo will be royally entertained in this country. He will be welcomed by most everybody except Congressman Hobson.

The contest between Greensboro and Winston for the Carolina League pennant is causing most of the people in the Carolinas to take notice.

The lawyers ought to be able to make some money out of the Beattie case. The elder Beattie has money and it is said he is willing to spend it to save his son's life.

The Telegram's circulation is not growing at the rate of a thousand a day, but the rate of increase is very satisfactory and shows conclusively that the people of this city and section appreciate a live afternoon paper.

The Greenville Piedmont holds to the opinion that if the hogs could vote the Wilmington Commission would be recalled. The Piedmont has the wrong animal by the ear, as we understand it. It is the cows that want to recall the Wilmington Commission.

The United States finds it necessary to send warships to protect her citizens in Haiti. There may be a reason for the residence of our citizens in that country, but it is not clear to the average man. What inducement can a white man from the United States find to cause him to live in Haiti?

One hundred thousand dollars is offered for the head of the ex-Shah of Persia. That is exactly the sum it is said was necessary to secure the election of Senator Lorimer, so it seems that the ex-Shah's head is worth as much as a whole United States Senator.

Uncle Joe Cannon remains silent as vigorously as he formerly spoke his mind and expressed his opinions. Uncle Joe has not been heard from for months. However, the country appears to get along all right without his guiding hand and "cussing" voice.

Mr. Taft and the Wool Bill.

Mr. Taft is at the parting of the ways. If the conferees of House and Senate can come to terms—and there is every prospect that they will reach an agreement—a bill will be presented to him materially reducing the rates on wool and woolens and remedying, to a large extent the inequalities in that schedule. The differences to be adjusted by the conferees are matters of rates, as both the Underwood and La Follette bills have the same object in view. The Democrats insist upon a more far-reaching reduction than the insurgent Republicans advocate, but either of the present measures, or a compromise fixing rates between the two, will be preferable to the existing law. Even the strongest opponents of revision predict that some sort of bill reducing the wool tariff will be passed by Congress within the next few days.

Manufacturers of woolens who enjoy high protection look to Mr. Taft to defeat revision by vetoing the bill, insuring them a continuance of their profitable privileges. Senators in his confidence declare they have been assured the President will veto the woolen bill or any other tariff measure passed by Congress now. One Senator is quoted as saying: "You ask me what the President is going to do with wool. Well, you can bet your life he is going to veto it." Senator Smoot of Utah, who was Aldrich's lieutenant, says: "It is inconceivable that the President can do other than veto the wool bill."

There are only two arguments that the "standpatters" present or the President can give for vetoing the bill at the present time. One is that urged by Senator Smoot, that the reductions proposed will have a depressing effect on manufacturing and will "destroy the wool industry." The other is that the Tariff Board is still engaged in investigating the industry, and any tariff legislation on the subject would be unwise until its report is laid before Congress. Mr. Smoot's argument maybe brushed aside as too absurd for serious consideration. No one believes that a reduction on manufactures will close factories which are making huge profits, or a 50 per cent cut on raw wool will "destroy" the sheep raising industry. If Mr. Taft does veto the bill, he will probably base his action on the fact that the Tariff Board has not yet reported the result of its inquiry into the difference between the cost of manufacturing in this country and abroad.

If Mr. Taft believes for a moment that the country will accept that as a valid excuse for his rejection of the bill, he is sadly deceived. He has made not a few blunders, but none that will prove so disastrous as this. A mass of information on this subject was gathered at the time the Dingley act was "revised" and was deliberately suppressed by Senator Aldrich. The evidence taken by the tariff board is given voluntarily by manufacturers and wool-growers who are anxious to protect their own interests, and is likely to prove misleading when it is submitted and there is no certainty when the report will be ready.

The country demands relief, and demands it now. Mr. Taft himself has declared the present rates "indefensible." The reductions made by both the Underwood and La Follette bills are by no means radical. They are too conservative to suit many advocates of reform. They seek merely to afford the relief the consumers demand and to which they are entitled. If Mr. Taft allows himself to be used as a tool by the protected interests, he will have to bear the blame for the delay; the denunciations will fall upon his head. His reciprocity agreement has done much to win back public confidence in his purpose and policies. But rejection of the wool bill will indicate that he has once more arrayed himself with the "standpatters" and reactionaries. His veto of this measure and the farmers' free list bill will present the Democrats with an issue for the campaign of 1912 that will be likely to sweep him and his party out of power.—Baltimore Sun.

OLD TIME MANNERS

(By MARGARET E. SANGSTER.)

From those dim historic days when the cave dweller emerged from his solitude, seized a woman by main force, and dragged her from her people that she might become his wife, to the present highly civilized era, is a very far cry. With the lack of manners in remote ages this has nothing to do.

We may, however, find it interesting to glance backward and discover some thing of the development of manners along the lines of English and American history. Take, for example, the novels of the Jane Austen. In these we are shown the deportment of the best and most cultivated society in the time of this noted and favorite English author.

Miss Austen was born in 1775 and died in 1817. Her first novel appeared in 1811 three years before the publication of Sir Walter Scott's Waverly. Within somewhat narrow limits she is unexcelled as a painter of people and behaviour in the good society of her time.

Scott's criticism of her was this: "The big bow-wow strain I can do myself like any now going, but the exquisite touch which renders ordinary commonplace things and characters interesting, from the truth of the description and the sentiments, is denied me."

As everybody knows, one of Miss Austen's delightful heroines is Miss Elizabeth Bennet, and the whole Bennet family are extremely entertaining and interesting. They are introduced to the reader in this way: "My dear Mr. Bennett," said his lady to him. "Have you heard that Netherfield Park is let at last?"

Observe here the expression "his lady." Thirty years ago an old-fashioned man might have entered himself and wife on a hotel register as "John Smith and lady;" that was the old style, completely superseded now by "John Smith and dife," which is surely in better taste.

To read "Pride and Prejudice," in which Elizabeth is the central character, is to receive a good idea of the manners of the later eighteenth century. Jane Austen is indeed a miniture painter of social good breeding.

In Miss Austen's books a piano is always spoken of as "the instrument," and the chief end of man and woman in her view, while they are young and fancy free, is as soon as possible to fall in love.

All through English novels we find glimpses of fine people and their behavior. Thackeray, Dickens, William Black, Thomas Hardy, and George Meredith all excel in describing manners, and one deep value of any romance is that it set forth plainly the intercourse of people as revelled in their common life, their social gaiety and their ordnary conversations. Biography also illuminates life in this way. No one can hope to acquire a perfect manner who is not to some extent a student of the manners of the past.

If we may trust the chroniclers of the later nineteenth century, a wave of boorishness at that period passed over those who claimed to belong to the higher ranks, and made their manners somewhat degenerate. Lords and ladies, squires and dames, fell into a wretched habit of using slang, of interlarding their talk with profanity, and rudely contradicting and interrupting those with whom they conversed. Where selfishness and rudeness enter good breeding is trampled under foot. It is an impossibility to have politeness without altruism; regard for others is the foundation stone of urbane manners. Politeness is built upon the Golden Rule.

ATTORNEYS WILL DISCUSS LITIGATION

St. Louis, Aug. 4.—A conference of weighty importance to the traveling public and the big railroads will begin here tomorrow, when the Attorney-Generals of seven States meet to discuss railroad rate litigation. The States to be represented in the conference—Oklahoma, Arkansas Minnesota, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, and Iowa—are all busy with railroad litigation.

Attorney General Elliott W. Major, of Missouri, who called the meeting at the request of Attorney General West of Oklahoma, declared today that he expected results from the conference that would be far-reaching. He said an effort would be made to come to a common agreement as to the best way to handle the problem. Missouri cases are pending for decision in the United States Supreme Court and nothing further can be done with them, but, Attorney General Major says, the consultation may be beneficial to the other States.

ENGLISH BRIDE'S TRAGIC EXPERIENCE

London, Aug. 3.—The tragic experience of a young English bride, whose husband was eaten by alligators in the Ganges, was related at Plymouth today, when the P. and O. liner Malwa arrived from India.

Among the passengers was Mrs. Livesay who was married three months ago at Cawnpore, where her husband was stationed. A month ago she had arranged to leave for Cardiff to see some friend and a picnic was arranged as a farewell gathering. Mr. and Mrs. Livesay, with several others, started down the Ganges in a double-decked boat, to reach the scene of the picnic by water. The weather was beautifully fine and the party was in the happiest of moods.

Near the landing place an accident occurred, the boat suddenly turning turtle and the occupants being thrown into the water. A terrifying scene ensued, as at this spot the river is infested with alligators. Within a few moments the animals were plunging among the struggling men and women, several of whom disappeared. Mrs. Livesay was rescued by a colleague of her husband, J. R. Scott, but Mr. Livesay and three others were not seen again, and were, it is presumed, eaten by the alligators.

Mr. Livesay, who was a merchant and a native of London, was twenty-six years of age. His widow is a year or two younger.

Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, saltrheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average baldheaded man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

SPLENDID RECEPTION AWAITS ADMIRAL TOGO

Will Arrive in Late Afternoon or Early Tomorrow Morning—To Spend Seventeen Days in This Country--Rules Will be Suspended and Distinguished Jap Will Find Entire Country Open for His Inspection.

New York, Aug. 3.—A government cutter will meet the Cunarder Lusitania when she steams up the bay late this afternoon or early tomorrow morning, and when the great ship lays to at Quarantine, Captain Templin Potts, U. S. N., will spring aboard to extend the greeting of President Taft to Admiral Count Heihachiro Togo, chief of the naval staff of the Japanese Empire and victor of the battle of the Sea of Japan, who will spend seventeen busy days in "doing" America. A series of receptions and entertainments have been arranged for the doughty Admiral and his staff by the most prominent people in the official life of the country, and but few royal princes who have visited this country have been accorded such a welcome as will be extended to the Japanese patriot.

For weeks official Washington has been astir in anticipation of his coming. Dinners, luncheons, sight seeing tours, visits to the military and naval stations in the vicinity of New York, and entertainments by prominent bodies of Japanese will claim his time. Wherever he may elect to go a courteous Washington official will be at his elbow to see that his every want is satisfied.

Immediately after he is comfortably located in a hotel Major General Grant, in command at Governor's Island, will wait upon him and on his return visit will salute him with nineteen guns. Admiral Togo will receive a like salute when he calls upon Rear Admiral E. H. C. Leutz, the commandant of the New York navy yard, as well as from the warships that may happen to be in port at the time and are visited by the Japanese delegation.

The program for Admiral Togo's entertainment while in America has not as yet been made fully public, but it is known that he will be the guest of honor at many notable functions, among them a dinner at the White House and a luncheon given by Secretary of State Knox. The Nippon Club of New York and the Japanese Society of America will also be his hosts.

The official announcement that Admiral Togo will not be affected by the order restricting the privileges of inspection of navy yards and shops by distinguished foreign visitors, is regarded as a criterion for judging the efforts that will be made to entertain, amuse and instruct the representative of Japan.

These restriction orders were put in effect to prevent any foreign visitor from gaining too much knowledge of American navy yards and their equipment and for a time it was feared that the rule would be applied to the admiral. This rule also applies to our armored war vessels. Togo, however, will have every opportunity to see all that is interesting in our navy yards and he will be welcomed aboard any battleship or armored cruiser that happens to be in the vicinity. One of the most interesting of his visits of inspection will be paid to the New York navy yard where the new battleship Florida lies nearly completed. Japan has no battleship in commission or building that compares with this giant fighter.

Other points of interest in the Admiral's itinerary will be the navy and army school at Annapolis and West Point respectively. There the summer cadet camps will be paraed before him in review and displays of skill and prowess arranged for his entertainment.

When he leaves New York Admiral Togo will go to Washington where he will be entertained by President Taft, Secretary of the Navy Meyer, and Secretary of State Knox, among others. He will also go to Mount Vernon to place a wreath on the tomb of Washington and board one of the navy yachts for a tour of the great Indian Head proving grounds. He will be in Washington about four days.

From Washington Admiral Togo will return to New York and after a few days spent in receiving distinguished visitors, attending banquets and sight seeing, he will leave for Canada, via Niagara Falls. After seeing the Falls he will proceed to Vancouver, B. C., where he will board a trans-Pacific liner on his return to Japan.

Commander Hiraga, the naval attache of the Japanese Embassy in Washington will attach himself to the Admiral's staff immediately upon his arival and confer with Captain Potts on all things pertaining to the distinguished visitor's comfort.

Commander Hiraga in speaking of his chief's tour of the United States, says: "Admiral Togo is the modest of men. Silence is his religion. He allows nothing to disturb his thoughts, even tabooing letters from his devoted wife and family while engaged with the responsibility of naval commander during the war with Russia.

"He looks forward to his visit to America with the keenest anticipation, and hopes that it will be the means of further cementing the bond of friendship and understanding existing between the two nations.

Admiral Togo received his naval training in England where, as a young man, he attended the naval college at Greenwich. Returning to Japan he was employed in various capacities, and when the war between China and Japan broke out he was in command of Naniwa, a cruiser of 3,600 tons. During the war he greatly distinguished himself, earning a reputation as a first class fighting man.

With the Russo-Japanese conflict came further change for honor and Togo, after a series of brilliant engagements culminating in the defeat of Rozhestvensky's armada, returned to his country the most popular hero of the war.

The Admiral comes direct from the Coronation festivities in London, where he was the representative of his country.

She—I'm afraid, Tom, dear, you will find me a mine of faults.

He—Darling, it shall be the sweetest labor of my life to correct them.

She (flaring up)—Indeed you shan't! —Boston Transcript.

DON'T SELECT YELLOW FOOD

If You Do, Says Dr. Goodall, Your Taste Is Probably Low and Vulgar.

An extraordinary food theory has been brought forward by Dr. J. S. Goodall, lecturer to the Middlesex Hospital Medical school. He declares that when you enter a restaurant and select a chocolate-colored food you unconsciously show yourself a man of taste and refinement; but if, on the contrary, you show a partiality for yellow-colored foods, your taste is most probably low and vulgar.

Dr. Goodall, in explaining his strange theory, says that he first made experiments with animals. "A cat, for instance," he says, "is very much influenced by the color of its food. In one experiment I placed a number of pieces of meat, each tinted a different color, before a cat. The animal looked at each piece carefully, and then selected the red-colored meat. Dogs, on the other hand, do not appear to use their visual sense like cats. If the food smells all right a dog will eat anything.

"Human being are very sensitive as to the color of their food. By making inquiries among caterers I found that chocolate-colored foods were easily the most popular among the educated classes. The poorer classes have a liking for yellow. One of the reasons of this may be that they think such foods are richer than others."

Pink is by far the most popular color with children. If a child is offered the choice of a pink and a yellow sweet, the pink variety will invariably be selected. Curiously enough, however, food artistically colored green appears to be avoided by all.

Dr. G. Norman Meachen, the well-known dietetic specialist, upholds the view that diners-out are largely influenced in their appetites by the color of the foods which are brought before them.

"Certain colors," he says, "stimulate the appetite and digestion, while others have the reverse effect. White foods, such as white fish, are stimulants to the appetite.

"Personally, my appetite has often been stimulated by certain colors. I have entered a restaurant with very feeble appetite and ordered a steak. The steak has come up a crisp, red, dish, chocolate-brown in color. I look at it, and immediately begin to feel hungry. Brown baked potatoes have also this effect on me.

"It is my theory that brown and blue are conducive to a healthy appetite, and to sit down to dinner in a green-papered room always destroys one's desire for food at all."

Help for All

Andrew Carnegie once suggested as an epitaph for his own tombstone what he said was the secret of his success: "Here lies a man who surrounded himself with men abler than himself."

Many able people are working for you, scientists, inventors, manufacturers, all trying to make something you want. Do you use their brains and their efforts—"surround yourself with them"—or do you plod along by yourself, years behind the times?

Take your own home. Have you your share of modern improvements there—money-saving, labor-saving, health-promoting? One of the most important of these is a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

A New Perfection stove never overheats a kitchen. It saves your strength. It saves fuel and time. With the New Perfection oven with the glass doors you can go on with your ironing or any other work, and still be sure at a glance the joint is roasting properly.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

The British Parliament Is Torn By Bitter Fight Over the Veto Bill

No such contest ever was waged in the British parliament as that over the so called veto bill. At times the situation has taken on the aspects of a revolution, as evidenced on one occasion by the hooting down of Premier Asquith. The veto bill purposes to remove from the house of lords the right to veto the acts of the house of commons. It originated in the commons, where it was passed. The lords, having enjoyed the veto power for so many years, naturally showed great unwillingness to relinquish it, and when the bill came before them it was so amended as to practically nullify its chief provisions. The situation has thus been deadlocked. The king has used his influence to bring about an amicable solution. As a last resort he may have to create enough additional peers to insure the ultimate passage of the bill in the lords.

The Tenderfoot Farmer

It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak" the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper.

Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't always depend upon people who call you by your first name.

A woman's idea of the good things of life looks like dry goods to a man.

If a girl tells you she can't sing, be wise and let it go at that.

To please men, give them money; to pease women, give them beauty.

THERE'S Probably a Classified Ad in this Issue That's of Even More Importance to You Than to the Advertiser Himself!

Can't you conceive how this may be true?

Suppose it's an ad offering employment that would be both congenial and profitable to you—or an ad of a place to live where life would be twice as good and livable to you as where you are now "passing" it—or a real estate ad, affording an undeniable profit-opportunity to an investor who has real estate "gumption"—or an ad through which that nearly-satisfactory servant is at last found! Would not ads of these sorts be of really greater importance to you than to the people who wrote them and paid for having them published in this paper?

COTTON LETTER TO J. E. LATHAM.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 3.—Liverpool showed a distinctly better tone with new crops at one ten points higher, spots one higher with sales 10,000.

The weather may shows generally fair in the southern half of Texas and Mississippi. Cloudy elsewhere in the belt; general showers in the eastern half of the belt. Only a few showers in the west. Temperatures rising in Texas. Indications are for continued showery weather except in the southwestern quarter of the belt. Complaints about continued wet weather are increasing from the Delta states and Alabama. Exporters say there is more inquiry from Europe for new crop shipments.

We opened a few points better, but selling for general accounts soon caused a loss of ten points. There is however, more opposition to the decline. The market is of course unsettled after a drop of 3 cents in a few weeks and if a radical change should be in store, it takes time to create sufficient confidence. The victorious bear faction is of course in control and as yet upturns are only regarded as spasmodic reactions. The proverbial saying that rains in July and August make a big crop is constantly cited to overcome the fear of present weather conditions. Frequent rains in July and August are unquestionably good but the present wet spell which has lasted for nearly six weeks with only a few days intermission may be too much of a good thing and as yet there are no indications of a cessation of these rains. The market steadied after Liverpool closed to 11.09 for October on buying on reports of deterioration from Mississippi, Alabama and georia.

FISH LOAF IS A NEW ONE

Housewife Will Make a Hit With the Folks by Springing This One.

Purchase a fresh codfish or haddock with the head left on. Remove the head, cut down the full length of the fish, on the side opposite the opening of the fish, on each side of the fine bones and pull out this narrow strip. Loosen the skin at the head end of the fish, first on one side and then the other. With a knife and the fingers push and cut the flesh from the large bone, first on one side and then on the other. In the absence of a "fish sheet," flatten the edges of the cover of a tin cracker box; set this in a baking pan and on it dispose about three thin slices of fat salt pork. On the pork dispose a piece of fish to make a layer of fish suitable for serving. Mix one cupful of soft, fine bread crumbs, a teaspoonful of dried sweet basil, crushed fine, one-fourth a teaspoonful each of salt and pepper, and one-fourth a cupful of melted butter, bacon, or salt pork fat; spread the crumbs over the fish, first sprinkling it lightly with salt and pepper. Cover the crumbs with the other piece of fish, trimming and setting in place as is needed to make a compact loaf. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, dispose three or four thin slices of pork above, and set to cook in a moderate oven. Reduce the heat as soon as the fish is seared a little and let cook slowly about 30 minutes. A few minutes before the fish is cooked remove the pork from the top, cover the fish with a half cupful of cracker crumbs mixed with three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, and set into the oven to brown the crumbs. Serve with drawn butter sauce, to which a chopped "hard cooked" egg or two tablespoonfuls of capers may be added. Baste the fish four or five times during the cooking.

Smear Case Cheese.

Two packages neufchatel cheese. Cream with melted butter to make a paste. One ten-cent bottle stuffed olives chopped very fine, one hard-boiled egg chopped very fine. Salt and cayenne pepper to suit the taste, grated onion to season highly. Mix all together and put in a large cup, set in cold water, or any fancy mold. Let stand until firm. Two hours is time enough. Fine with crackers and coffee.

Luncheon Muffins.

Cream one-third cup of butter, add one-quarter cup sugar, beat one egg, add three-quarters cup milk and add alternately to first mixture, with two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon salt, mixed and sifted otgether. Bake in tin gem pans about 25 minutes. Makes a dozen.

Ambrosia.

Peel and slice fresh oranges, round, one pineapple sliced thin, put in a deep stand alternate layers of orange, pineapple and grated cocoanut. Begin with the oranges, using cocoanut last. Spread between each layer finely powdered sugar. Add sugar to the cocoanut milk and pour over the dish.

"You, there, in the overalls!" shouted the cross-examining lawyer, "how much are you paid for telling untruths?"

"Less than you are," retorted the witness, "or you'd be in overalls to."—Housekeep.

Every Dollar of an Ad-Reader's Money is Above Par!

Frequently Its Buying Power Is Actually Doubled!

YOUR DOLLARS vary in value as they vary in purchasing power. The man or woman who studies advertisements is able, frequently, to make one dollar do the usual work of two.

And the experienced reader of advertisements will always make a dollar command a premium—make it buy more than a dollar's worth, as figured on "ruling prices" of things.

How much "above par" are the dollars in your pocket worth? It will depend on how closely you study the buying opportunities outlined in the store ads.

NEGRO FROM HIGH POINT GOES TO ROAD.

Lee Kirk, a notorious negro of High Point, was brought last night from that place and lodged in the county jail. He was convicted of an affray in the Recorder's court and sentenced to serve 60 days on the roads. The negro's face is rather battered up from the effects of the fight. He will be carried to Capt. Tyson's camp as soon as an opportunity is presented, probably in a few days. It will be remembered that Kirk was tried for his life in the Guilford Superior court several years ago, but though it was the concensus of opinion that the negro had committed the deed he was cleared by the jury by excellent counsel.

School of Pharmacy Opens.

Page's School of Pharmacy, after the opening of the fall session on Tuesday night, has settled down to the work of preparing the students to pass the examination before the state board. Twenty-five students are taking the quizz this term, the largest majority of whom are expected to stand the examination successfully after the complete course of the school. B. Frank Page, of the Justice Drug Company, and Roy B. Champion, of Gardner's drug store, are instructing the aspiring druggists.

STRAINER SPOON IS NEW IDEA

Is Only Partially Meshed and Has Variety of Uses—Housewife Will Appreciate.

A strainer spoon, in which many advantages are claimed by the New York man who devised it is shown herewith. The secret in this spoon's versatility lies in the fact that it is only partially meshed to enable it to be used in straining, for skimming jelly or soup, poached eggs, whipped cream or for any of the myriad uses to which spoons are put in the kitch en. As will be noticed, the bowl has a wide strip of metal around the edge, only a comparatively small portion in the center having the wire meshing. The consequence is that this implement can be used either as a spoon or a strainer and the cook need not go to the cutlery drawer a dozen times while preparing a meal to get just the utensils needed for a particular task.

Chocolate Squares.

One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, three cups of flour, five eggs, beat whites and yolks separately; one small cup of ice water, two teaspoonsful of baking powder sifted in the flour, vanilla flavoring. Cream butter and sugar together until very light; add yolks of eggs then whites, then flour, and finally the ice water. Bake in biscuit pans. When cold cut in squares. Have chocolate frosting ready in a bowl. Dip each square in the frosting and put on a platter to dry. For cocoanut cakes have white frosting in a bowl and a dish of grated fresh cocoanut. Dip the squares in the frosting, then roll in the grated cocoanut.

Shuping, an experienced shoe merchant of the city, will be manager of the store.

Friend or Patient.

A famous physician who was particularly expeditions in examining and prescribing for his patients was waited on by an army man, who was polished off in almost less than no time. As the patient was leaving he shook hands heartily with the doctor and said.

"I am especially glad to meet you, as I have often heard my father, Colonel F., speak of you."

"What!" exclaimed the physician, "are you Dick's son?"

"Certainly."

"My dear fellow," said the doctor, "throw that infernal prescription into the fire and tell me what is the matter with you."

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women.

Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

WHERE IS THE CHECK?

When will the Hidden Check page appear? These and many other inquiries are already pouring into The Telegram office from all parts of the city. The "Hidden Check" page is in fact becoming the talk of the town, and all are anxiously awaiting the day of its hiding. It will indeed be a lucky day for some one. Who the lucky one will be of course is as yet unknown, but five good dollars rest safely and securely in the safe of The Telegram for whoever it may happen to be. All you have to do is read each advertisement carefully which appears on the "Hidden Check" page. In each ad you will find one or more extra letters; pick out the extra letters and then arrange them into a sentence. The sentence when you get it arranged correctly will spell out where the check can be found. Keep your eyes on The Telegram and watch for the page. Friday's paper will give you the date of the appearance of the first page.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore are very proud of the accession to their fine family. Mrs. Moore is only 43 years old.

NO CHANGE IN CONDITION OF THE WATER SUPPLY

Commissioner Foushee stated today that there was practically no change in the water situation. A report from the superintendent of the Reedy Fork system was to the effect that flow was as good as it was several days ago. One pump is kept going day and night and the reservoir is kept full.

The fine rain which fell in Greensboro Tuesday afternoon did not extend as far as the Battle Ground and consequently had no effect as far as swelling the streams is concerned. However, unless the supply diminishes there is no need for fears of a water famine, provided the consumers will see that there is no unnecessary waste allowed.

Studying American Drinks.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Blanche Sears, head barmaid at Spiers & Pond's Waterloo Junction bar, in London, who is in America studying the make-up of Yankee drinks, arrived in Chicago yesterday. She smilingly threatened to start an English bar in Chicago with an all-English corps of barmaids, and seemed surprised when told that Mayor Harrison might intervene.

"I have been studying American barrooms and bar patrons," she said, "and I never saw such queer ways. My impression is that Americans drink a whole lot, not because they really care to, but because they desire to make a display of their money. They don't drink that way in London.

"English barrooms are respectable. American bars are impossible in deportment, language and drinking habits."

CHRISTIAN CHURCH PHILATHEA CLASS HELD SOCIAL MEETING.

The Philathea class of the Christian church met with the teacher, W. B. Truitt, on Vance street Tuesday night, in a social and business meeting. It was decidedly the most largely attended and the most desirable meeting the class has yet had. There were 30 members present.

As the members arrived each was presented with a very unique program for the evening. These were folders tied with the class colors. All were cautioned not to open them until the proper time. The following program appeared on the back of the folder:

No. 1, social; No. 2, a bachelor's idea of refreshments; No. 3, the business session; No. 4, who's who; No. 5, a minute for the minister; No. 6, Philathea hymn; No. 7, a few other things.

The second number on the program proved to be very amusing, Mr. Truitt's idea of refreshments being buttermilk, ginger snaps and stick candy. After the short business session a contest, "Who's who," was very entertaining. At the close of the program ice cream and cantaloupe were served.

Just before the guests departed, Mr. Truitt read a poem composed by himself in which all the members of the class were mentioned.

CLEVER LAWYER GETS RELEASE FROM ASYLUM

Ebensburg, Pa., Aug. 3.—Neither Dr. Hutchinson, superintendent of the Dixmont Asylum for the Insane and legal custodian of Attorney J. A. C. Ruffner, of Greensburg and Indiana, nor any one else appeared in court yesterday to oppose the habeas corpus proceedings instituted some weeks ago by Ruffner to secure his release from the state asylum. Consequently Judge J. O'Conner ordered Ruffner's release from custody, and the lawyer left for home.

Ruffner had been confined in the asylum for several years until early in July, when his testimony was needed in a case being heard. No sooner had Ruffner reached Cambria county than a plan he had evolved himself was put in operation. Ex-Congressman Jack, of Indiana, Ruffner's attorney, applied to Judge O'Conner for a writ of habeas corpus, which was made returnable yesterday. Ruffner was at liberty from that time, and spent the time in Ebensburg and Barnesboro. Yesterday his case was called by the court. No one was on hand to oppose his release, and Ruffner had a number of doctors and others ready to testify that he was sane. The court did not hear them, declaring their testimony was not needed. Ruffner's petition of habeas corpus was sustained and he was set free. He takes the credit for the coup which got him his liberty.

MAGNITUDE OF COUNTRY'S RAILROAD BUSINESS

Statement of Interstate Commerce Commission Affords Accurate Statistics--Report Makes Intensely Interesting Reading.

(By VICTOR ELLIOTT.)

Washington, Aug. 3.—A fair idea of the great amount of capital invested and the magnitude of the railroad business in this country can be gained from a recent statement of the Interstate Commerce Commission containing an abstract of railway statistics from the twenty-third annual report of the commission.

The summaries show that on June 30, 1910, there was a total single-track mileage in the United States of 240,438 miles, an increase of 3,640 miles over the corresponding mileage at the close of the previous year. The number of railroads operating this mileage in the United States was 2,196. During the year railway companies owning 8,614 miles of line were organized, merged or consolidated.

It appears that there were 58,947 locomotives in the service of the railroads at the close of the fiscal year on June 30, 1910. Of this number 13,660 were classified as passenger, and 34,922 as freight, 9,115 as switching, and 1,180 were unclassified.

The number of cars necessary to carry on the enormous business of the railroads was 2,290,331. Of this number 47,095 were passenger cars and more than 2,000,000 weref reight cars. This shows that the railroads depend largely upon freight traffic for their earnings. The average number of locomotives per 1,000 miles was 245, and the number of cars per 1,000 miles 9,510.

An army of men many times the size of the standing army of the United States is on the pay rolls of the railroads. There were on June 30, 1910, 1,699,420 on the pay rolls. To these men a sum almost beyond comprehension was paid in salaries. The total amount of wages reported to have been paid to the employes of the railroads during the year 1910 was $1,143 725,306. This sum is larger than the gold reserve of the United States.

Is it any wonder that the government should wish to carefully consider any legislation affecting so great an interest? The abstract does not pretend to show the total value of the railroad property.

A glance over the history of railroads is interesting. At the time of building the first railroad in the United States the government did its utmost to aid in the furthering of the construction of more roads. It granted lands to the railroads, gave them rights of way and made innumerable concessions to them. Today how very different is the attitude of the government toward the railroads. The railroads have grown under the favor of the government until the government need no longer aid and protect them. They have grown so in power that government regulation is common talk and the subject of political agitation.

There can be no denying the fact that without the rapid growth of railroads the United States would not have its present powerful commercial standing. The growth of the railroads was the growth of the country. The evil of the railroads arises from the fact that they have outgrown the country. There is scarcely a town of 5,000 or more inhabitants that does not boast of one railroad or more. The railroads have a hold on every section of the country. They can make or make town or sections. All that is necessary for them to do in order to punish some community that has fallen into disfavor is to make discriminatory rates against it in favor of some other place, and it is not long before the inhabitants begin to feel the power of the railroad.

On June 30, 1910, the par value of the amount of railway capital outstanding, according to the abstract of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was $18,417,132 238. Of this amount $14,338,575,940 was outstanding in the hands of the public. The amount of dividends declared during the year was $405,771,416.

The total number of passengers carried during the year 1910, was 971,683,199. The coresponding number for the previous year was 891,472,425. The number of passengers carried per mile of road was 138,250.

The volume of freight traffic is almost unbelievable. The abstract shows that during the year the local freight tonnage was 1,849,900,101 tons. These figures represent a large gain over the previous year.

The total revenus of the railroads for 1910 amounted to $2,750,667,435. More than one half of this amount was derived from freight traffic. There was derived from passenger traffic $628,992,473. The next largest source of revenue of the railroads in the order named were: mail, express, and switching. More than four and one-half millions of dollars was expended by the traveling public for the use of parlor and chair cars. The United States paid to the railroads for transportation of its mails during the year 1910 $48,913,888.

Operating expenses of the railroads for the year were $1,822,630,400. Of this sum $368,507,102 was spent for maintenance. For equipment the railroads expended $413,109,929. The operating expenses per mile averaged $7,691.

The average person never considers the great cost of operating a railroad, or what a tremendous business it must necessarily handle to make a profit on the capital invested.

Railroad legislation is bound to play an important part in the politics of this country in the future. There are many men who look upon the railroads as a menace to the freedom of the country. There are three methods of legislation proposed by the politicians—government ownership, government operation, and government regulation. The first two have many followers. The third seems to be the most practical solution of the problem. Nearly every one concedes that some kind of regulation is necessary.

NEWS OF THE ENGLISH CAPITAL

(By PHILLIP EVERETT.)

London, Aug. 3.—Never has Cowes week, by far the most important yachting feature of the year in Europe, been more brilliant than this year.

When the week opened on Tuesday last after the preliminary day's racing under the burgee of the Royal London Yacht Club, the anchorage was full of gaily decorated vessels of practically all nationalities, many of these having been there continually ever since the great international naval review at Spithead.

Royalty was also present in greater numbers than ever. King George and Queen Mary lived on the royal yacht, but used the famous old racing cutter Brittania for sailing in and about the Solent. The king and queen of Spain came over on their beautiful steam yacht Giralda and the young king's three racing yachts Hispania, Tonillo and Giralda II, were greatly admired.

Old Empress Eugenia witnessed the races from her graceful yacht Thistle, which was anchored close to Prince Henry of Battenburg's Sheile.

Americans were present in greater numbers than ever, taxing accommodations ashore to the utmost.

That it is not Queen Alexandria's desire to spend the remainder of her days in seclusion at Sandringham has been quite evident during the last few weeks, for, during all the time that the king and queen have been absent from London visiting Ireland, Wales and Scotland, Queen Alexandra's standard has been floating over Marlborough House and the dowager queen herself has been much in evidence in London, going to Crystal Palace, to Richmond and to a number of picture galleries, hospitals and stores accompanied by her sister, Empress Marie of Russia.

Considerable comment has been aroused by Queen Alexandra's determination to show all the attention she can to the exiled royal Portuguese family, and it is again hinted that Emanuel is to be permitted to marry one of the Fife Princesses when all his wild oats were safely sown.

Crops of these, however, are still luxuriant, though the ex-king is less careless than he used to be, when he thought that he could pass unrecognized in the Bohemian part of London.

The invasion of Russian dancers in London, and their insistency is not going to be without its effect over here. The Chevalier Becchi foresees that it is going to have a marked effect on English private dancing.

Chevelier Bocchi has been concerned in bringing over of several Russian dancers and singers, for not only has there been a demand for them in the balls, but even more so in West-end drawing-rooms. And what the Chevelier thinks is going to happen as one of the results is that our waltz time is going to change to a much quicker movement.

This iconoclastic change has, apparently, already begun to show itself.

"I have seen signs of it myself," said the Chevalier to me today. "I think we are going to say good-bye for a time at any rate, to the dream-waltzing of the present day, and to have instead a more vivacious style.

"It is probable that we shall find waltzes divided into two kinds; the slow, called the waltz tente, and the quicker and sparkling, which will be called just the waltz. I don't suppose the change will find favor with everyone, but it is likely to be popular with the younger folks."

There is little doubt that English dancing in ballrooms does want "bucking up." Dr. Emil Reich's description of it used to be "a melancholy polishing of the floor," and it was not a bad one. How far the languid, gilded youth will view favorably the increased strain upon his energies is a little doubtful, for hostesses find it hard enough to get him on the ballroom floor as it is.

The visit of London's Corporation to Vienna at the invitation of the Burgomaster is definitely arranged. The main outline of the tour was fixed the other day.

The party will consist of the Lord Mayor, Sheriff Sir Harry Buckingham, ten aldermen, and fifty commoners, who have already been chosen by ballot, together with the town clerk, the city remembrancer, and the clerk.

Leaving London on September 8, they will proceed to Vienna via Brussels, Cologne, and Frankfort, the Austrian frontier being crossed atPassau, the journey being accomplished without a change in a special train de luxe composed of dining and sleeping cars. The whole time from London occupied by the journey will be just under 35 hours.

Much of the work in Vienna will probably be occupied by banquets and luncheons, and visits will be paid to places of interest. Invitations from Ischl and Prague have been accepted and at the former town the representatives of the city will be the guests of the Emperor, who has a palace there.

Ischl will be reached on September 15th and Prague on September 17th, the return to London taking place on September 20th.

As the outcome of negotiations between the English Postmaster General and the Parliamentary Committee of the Labor Union Congress, an arrangement has been made whereby the Postoffice Saving Bank will, within certain limits, undertake ordinary banking business for labor unions.

It is proposed that any registered union or branch thereof shall be allowed to deposit in the Postoffice Savings Bank an amount not exceeding $5,000, provided that not more than $1,250 is deposited in any one year. On the sums thus deposited it is proposed that, as soon as the necessary details can be settled, the unions shall have the power to draw by check.

Under the new arrangement, which is welcomed by labor union leaders generally, it will now be possible for the unions to enjoy all the advantages of banking facilities without the restriction which hve closed the ordinary against the unions.

WORKING MEN RAISED DISTURBANCE IN LONDON TOWN

London, Aug. 3.—Disturbances occurred late last night in several of the streets running between the Shankhill and the Falls roads, the working class, Protestant and Roman Catholic quarters of the city.

Two crowds faced each other, and a brisk stone fusilade took place. Several beaten charges were made by the police, and eventually the crowds were parted without much harm having been done. Disorder afterwards broke out in the streets, and stone-throwing was kept up until a late hour.

A public house was wrecked and looted and the spirits wasted.

A grocery stock was also treated in much the same manner. Private houses were also wrecked, and in some cases the furniture was dragged into the street and set alight.

When a man is smoking it adds to his enjoyment if his wife worries for fear he will drop ashes on the floor.

ATROCITIES OF TURKS ROUNDLY CONDEMNED

Paris, Aug. 3.—From different quarters come sad accounts of the atrocities which are being perpetrated in Albania. Of particular interest is the conversation which the Figaro correspondent at St. Petersburg has had with M. Lazare Muichkovitch, the Montenegrin Envoy Extraordinary. A very graphic description of the situation, and of the noble part which the Montenegrin government is playing was given by M. Miuchkovitch, who was often much affected, as he spoke. He told, among other things, of Torgut Pasha ordering the infliction of the bastinado on Albanian chiefs in the streets of Scutari to the accompaniment of a band.

"I have," he said, "witnessed these deplorable scenes with my own eyes, and I only tell you the strict truth. The Albanians had no arms, as by our advice they had submitted. What did they do to escape the persecution directed against them by the Ottoman authorities? They crossed the froneitr en masse with their wives, children and cattle and sought refuge in our territory. Once they had crossed the frontier we could not drive them away. This would have been contrary to the rules of hospitality, and it would have been a crime against humanity to refuse a refuge to these poor people who were homeless and without bread."

And he concluded by declaring that the whole of Europe ought to intervene, and use every pacific means to induce the Porte to restore to Albania the administration and the privileges which a past of several centuries had consecrated.

SPARTANBURG TOOK FINAL OF SERIES FROM PATRIOTS

Laval Out Twirled Walters and Captured Game 3 to 1.

Spartanburg won from Greensboro the first game of the series, by a score of 3 to 1, at Cone Park yesterday afternoon. Laval and Walters were the opposing slabmen and the South Carolina twirler did the best work.

The Greensboro boys did poor work both in the field and running bases, and the wonder is that the Patriots did not lose by a bigger score. Fortunately the errors were not costly, but the poor base running and inability to hit opportunely were costly indeed.

The Musicians made one run in the first, when Kipp got free transportation to first, was sacrificed to second and scored on McCarthy's drive to right field for three bases.

In the third Laval singled and Wagnon and McCarthy followed with singles Stuart's error at the plate permitting Laval to score. The last run was made in the eighth on McCarthy's double, a sacrifice bunt and a sacrifice fly by Totman and Williams, respectively.

Greensboro's sole run was the result of Fuller's two-bagger and Williams' error in the ninth.

DIAMOND DUST

Where They Play Tomorrow.

Greensboro at Winston.
Charlotte at Anderson.
Greenville at Spartanburg.

Aggie, you dear boy.

Winston doesn't always win.

Even Swindell couldn't stem the tide.

It's sad, Winston, but you can't buy pennants.

The only pennant Winston will have will be the one Coffin won early in the season.

Just one month from today Coffin will come to himself and discover that playing the game, and not saying so much, is what gets pennants.

Fuller was right in the game yesterday afternoon, as usual, and he certainly did line out a couple of pretty hits. Joe you are the stuff.

Doak has been unwell for several days but is simply staying in the game because he is not a quitter and because he does not want to disturb the line-up.

When September 2nd comes and the Winston management begins figuring on how to pay all the debts contracted in an effort to buy the pennant they will wish they had let Swindell go on in the summer and gotten that extra $750.

Greensboro never boasted half as much about the two pennants it has won as Winston has over the prospective rag it expects to get this year.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Really, now, Coffin, your folks are making a terrible mistake to get in your dirty work, turn umpires, pay bonuses and additions to salary in an effort to get the pennant. You will get the other teams sore on you and they will see that you don't win.

An effort is being made to get that special train to Winston Saturday, but even though that is not secured parties can buy block tickets and make the round trip for a little more than a dollar. We hope a good crowd will go from here to swell Winston's attendance. They will need the money when it comes to paying that bonus—that is, if—.

STRANGE ACTION IN FOREIGN COURT

Vienna, Aug. 3.—A strange action came before the Vienna courts when Fraulien Amelie Mostler, a good-looking young woman, was charged with "disturbing the connubial bliss" of Captain Theodor von Strumpf and his wife.

The action was brought by the wife, and the defendant, while admitting the charges, said that Frau von Strumpf had agreed to renounce her husband providing the defendant obtained an allowance for her. Fraulien Mostler secured an allowance for the wife, and the two women entered into an agreement.

Fraulien Mostler was acquitted, the judge holding that the wife had, by her contract, renounced all claim to fidelity on the part of her husband.

INVESTIGATION REVEALS GRAVE CONDITIONS AMONG ALBANIANS

London, Aug. 2.—Special investigators sent to the harrassed region of Albania, report a situation grave beyond belief. They state that unless prompt action is taken by some powerful Christian nation whole tribes of intelligent, peaceable, industrious Albanians will soon be exterminated.

They assert that women and children are made to bare the brunt of Turkish cruelty, and they picture a fever-infected country, swarming with Turkish soldiers whose predelection for rapine, murder and desecration compares favorably with the fabled stories that are handed down from the wars of the Holy Land.

Particularly do they censure Torgut Shevket, the general in command of the Turkish troops. Their reports state that "though Turkey has produced some unscrupulous and bloody generals she has never produced one more diabolically direct in his application of age—old Turkish methods of warfare than Torgut Shevket." It is he, they claim, backed by the Turkish government, that is behind the vindictive cruelty shown by the Turks in dealing with their opponents.

In order to appreciate the full significance of this historic tragedy that is being enacted in the southeastern corner of Europe, it is necessary to realize that the people whom TorgutShevket is ruthlessly destroying, possess none of the attributes either of Turks or of comic-opera brigands with which they are usually associated. They are a handsome, intelligent race, Catholic in religion, and essentially European in descent. Although for centuries they have been subject to the brutal domination of the Turks, they have never adopted the Turkish language or religion or method of life.

The warfare which Torgut Shevket is now conducting is one of concentration, starvation, taxation, pillage, destruction by fire, and simple brutal butchery.

The Malissoris having demanded that the Turkish promises made when the young Turks assumed power at Constantinople should be fulfilled, Torgut Shevket has replied by burning their villages, driving them from the mountains, taking possession of the mountain passes, forcing them to remain during the hot unhealthy summer in the lowlands where their sheep and cattle will starve, shutting off all sources of food supply and declaring all those who give them assistance to be rebels.

Nearly one half of the highland clans have been accustomed from time immemorial to descend every autumn with their flocks and families into the Bregumatia and to winter there. But in June great swarms of mosquitoes make this lowland country uninhabitable, and therefore early in summer the highlanders return to the hills. Torgut Shevket, taking advantage of this annual migration, proceeded to exterminate those highlanders who remained in the hills through the winter. Such as he could not catch he drove over the border into Montenegro. Early in spring he took possession of mountain passes through which the emigrants expected to return to their homes, and he refused to let them go back. The clans are now concentrated in a low, malarial country where they are slaughtering their flocks upon which they are dependent for existence, but which are insufficiently supplied with food in the low country, where both humans and beasts alike are dying from fever caused by drinking the foul water of the now stagnant marshes.

Ibriham Effendi Kjori, a superior Turkish official at Skutaria, has publicly declared that the Ottoman government intends to depopulate the highlands in order to bring in new settlers more in sympathy with the Turkish government and religion. This same Turkish official adds calmly that the government intends to let the Malissori "die in the Bregumatia like swine in a bog."

Torgut Shevket appears to be near the attainment of this object, the onlyxgxx attainment of this object. Only the united action of the Christian people of Europe and the United States can prevent him from exterminating 100,000 Christians in northern Albania.

New Market Ordinance Effective.

The new market house ordinance became effective on Tuesday. One of the chief requirements is that each day the various markets in the city are inspected at which time all meats, fish, etc., are inspected and all equipment such as is used in cutting, weighing and holding meats are looked over to see if they are in cleanly condition. If any of the meats are unsound or if the equipment is not properly cleaned the place is closed and a huge sign reading "Condemned and Closed," is posted thereon. The place is not re-opened until the defects are remedied. At the central market Keeper Cox is in charge. Dr. T. H. Wood has been elected assistant inspector to assist Dr. Charter in his work.

Died After Heroic Rescue.

Baltimore, Aug. 3.—Saved from death by drowning just as he was sinking for the third time by the heroic work of a comrade with whom he was swimming, Raymond Whitman, 19-year-old son of William Whitman, 2836 East Baltimore street, died in the Johns Hopkins Hospital yesterday morning of heart failure, superinduced by his experience in the water.

Young Whitman was just recovering from an injury received on July 4. On that date he was struck in the back by one of the swings in Patterson Park and for a time was confined to his home. He expected to be sufficiently recovered by the end of this week to return to his position in the Mount Clare shops of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

EDWARD FUNK CAPTURED.

Noted Criminal Wanted by Police of Fifteen Cities.

New York, Aug. 3.—Edward Funk, who is said to be wanted by the police of fifteen cities, including Norfolk, Va., was captured at East Stroudsburg, Pa., today, according to an announcement at the headquarters of a detective agency here tonight.

It is asserted that since his release from the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary in March, 1910, Funk by representing himself as partner or agent of some Eastern business concern, secured introductions to banks, whereupon he opened a credit account depositing a certified check and after drawing against this deposit, left the city before the forgeries were discovered.

WINSTON TO HAVE BOND ELECTION SOON.

Winston, Aug. 3.—Next Tuesday the citizens of Winston will decide whether or not they desire a bond issue of $350,000 for public improvements. Large numbers of citizens have already registered for the election and the general opinion prevails that the people will declare in favor of the bond issue.

When the registration books closed for the day yesterday afternoon a total of 327 citizens had registered to vote in the bond election to be held August 8. This large registration up to the present date, with yet three more days in which the books will be open, is the best evidence of the great interest that is being taken in the outcome of this election, in which the board of aldermen of Winston has left in the hands of the people to say whether or not they approve of a bond issue of $350,000 for general public improvements.

Municipal Court Cases.

Municipal Court held a short session for the trial of two trivial cases. Hanks Caldwell and Tom McBride were indicted for an affray yesterday afternoon. It seems that Caldwell accosted McBride, who is a white man, and demanded the payment of some money. On a refusal the negro slapped McBride in the face. The evidence did not serve to show, however, that the victim of the blow had resented it by returning so he was declared not guilty by the court. Caldwell was fined $7 and the costs.

Jesse Swain was on trial for retailing but no damaging evidence was introduced and he was declared not guilty.

The Way of a Reformer.

He was one of those sad-faced men who delight in becoming railway carriage bores, and when he saw a happy-looking stranger smoking contentedly near by he felt compelled to ask a few questions.

"Sir," he began, "will you allow your boy to smoke cigarettes when he grows up?"

"I have never given the question a moment's thought," replied the stranger.

The sad-faced man sighed.

"And," he went on faintly, "I suppose you have never thought about stopping his drinking?"

"I never have," admitted the man.

The sad-faced man gasped.

"Can it be true," he muttered, "that there are such monsters living; such hardened, callous—"

"But I think you ought to know," interrupted the stranger, "that I have been a confirmed bachelor all my life."

MOTORMAN INJURED IN FALL

Mr. O. O. Watts Hurt in Exchanging Block Signals With Passing Car on Suburban Line At Wilmington.

Wilmington, Aug. 3.—Falling from the car upon which he was riding while attempting to exchange with the motorman on a car passing in the other direction the wooden hoop used as a block signal arrangement on the suburban line of the Tidewater Power Company, Motorman O. O. Watts was seriously injured yesterday morning near the baseball park.

Mr. Watts was leaning against the gate on his car and in some way it became unfastened, precipitating him to the ground between the two tracks. It is considered almost a miracle that the motorman was not run over and instantly killed. His head was struck by the other car as he fell. He was placed upon the car coming to the city and at Ninth and Princess streets he was placed in the ambulance and carried to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where it was found that his head was badly bruised and contused. It is also possible that internal injuries may develop.

Mr. Watts was on the outgoing train leaving the city at 11 o'clock, and on the train with him were Conductors Reece and Juckett. The train was due to pass the 10:45 train coming in from the beach in charge of Motorman S. J. Strickland and Conductors W. C. and P. J. Beard, near the baseball park about three miles from the city. The Tidewater Power Company operates a block signal arrangement by which the passing trains must exchange the hoops or sticks. This is a signal that the line is clear. It is said the company has a rule that all cars must come to a stop in making the exchange, but seldom is it ever observed. It is said that Motorman Watts failed to do this yesterday, and that the other car was also moving at the time of the accident. When Mr. Watts fell his head struck the other car a glancing blow and he dropped to the space between the tracks, which is about three feet in width. Both cars were stopped as soon as possible, one of the conductors stopping the car that Mr. Watts had been operating.

At the hospital last night it was stated that Mr. Watts was resting very comfortably and that he did not seem to be in any immediate danger, but it could not be stated just how serious are his injuries.

Revival At Mt. Pleasant.

A revival of the "old time" kind is in progress at Mt. Pleasant Methodist church, six miles east of the city. Last night about sixty people professed, having received the experience of salvation, many of them being joyously happy. Rev. D. M. Litaker, of Centenary church, has been doing the preaching, assisting the pastor, Rev. S. T. Barber.

er is not engaged in the meat or butcher business in the said city of Greensboro), if such farmer shall have attached to said meat the following internal organs of said animal, viz: the heart, liver, tongue, kidney and lungs."

In short the farmers want this portion of the ordinance put into effect again. They claim that it is not necessary for an inspectior to inspect the animal both before and after it is killed, provided the heart, liver, kidneys, lungs, etc., are brought with the animal to the city. They state that to either drive a hog several miles, or haul it in a wagon, would make it unfit to kill, even though it was in perfect condition when it left the farm. They do not favor allowing brokers to travel over the country and purchase and kill hogs and cattle promisciously, but that only farmers who raise their hogs and cattle and have two or three more than they need be allowed to do so. They also state that they favor any inspection laws that will protect the health of the people of Greensbore, but contend that the ordinance requiring that hogs and cattle be inspected before and after they are killed is an unnecessary hardship.

On the other hand the city veterinarian, Dr. F. S. Charter, states that it is well nigh impossible to inspect an animal with any degree of accuracy unless the inspection is both before and after it is killed. Dr. Charter was seen by a Telegram reporter yesterday afternoon and he stated that only a few days ago a case came under his observation that would prove his contentions. A well known farmer brought a fine looking and apparently healthy calf to the slaughter house to be killed, and after looking it over he was told to kill it. An examination of the heart, lungs, liver and kidneys also showed that they were apparently sound and healthy. The intestines, however, were full of tuberculosis and made the meat totally unfit for food. He stated that had the animal been killed on a farm and brought in with heart, liver, lungs, kidneys and viscere attached it would have been impossible for any veterinarian to have told that the animal was diseased. He stated that after condemning the carcass the owner admitted that the animal had been ailing in the past, but had apparently gotten all right.

It is on these grounds that the city has so far refused to amend the ordinance. The officials realize they state, that it is somewhat of a hardship on the farmers so far as hogs are concerned, but declare that when the health of the people of the city is at stake they should not waver because of some minor hardship imposed, but should keep the ordinance as it stands.
